	No: Claims
Industrial applicability (IA)	Yes: Claims	1-4
	No: Claims

2. Citations and explanations

see separate sheet

Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1 STATE OF THE ART

Reference is made to the following document (D) cited in the International Search Report. The numbering will be adhered to in the rest of the procedure:

D1: GB-A-2 185 894A

2. Article 34 PCT

2.1 The amendments filed with the letter dated 03.05.2004 introduce subject-matter which extends beyond the content of the application as filed, contrary to Article 34(2)(b) PCT.

In claim 1 the feature wherein each of the levels in descending direction towards the base of the pyramid has two more recesses than the recesses that the preceding level had, has been added without a basis in the originally filed application.

Also, the feature of the recesses being perpendicular to the inclined lateral surface is also considered to be added subject matter without a basis in the originally filed application.

2.2 Therefore, these features are not taken into consideration when assessing the requirements of Article 33 PCT.

3. Independent claim 1

3.1 The subject-matter of claim 1 is novel and involves an inventive step (ART. 33(2) and (3) PCT) for the following reasons:

3.2 Document D1 is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of claim 1, and discloses:

A structure for a game comprising a pyramidal shaped body (22) having a quadrangular base (see fig 4, and 5), said body is divided in independent levels rotatable about a shaft (see fig. 5 and 10b) each of said levels having four lateral surfaces with a plurality of equal recesses (31) in each of the lateral surfaces and a game piece (14) can be coupled in each of said recesses (see fig. 13).

- 3.3 The difference between the subject matter of claim 1 and D1 is the provision of one recess in each of the lateral surfaces of the vertex of the pyramid.
- 3.4 This feature solves the technical problem of enabling the play of a different game on the defined board. These recesses are placed in this particular position in order to assist with the rules of playing the different game such as arranging a number of game pieces in a certain composition, horizontal, vertical or diagonal (cf. pg. 1 ln. 30-34 and pg. 3, ln. 21-24).
- 3.5 Therefore the features proposed in claim 1 of the present application is considered to fulfill the requirements of the Article 33(2) and (3) PCT.

4. Dependent claims 2-4

Dependent claims 2-4 also meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and inventive step ARTICLE 33(2) AND (3) PCT since these claims are dependent on the independent claim 1.
